About

Hi! I'm a curious and creative web developer with a Bachelor's in Web Development and an AP Degree in Computer Science—both earned in Denmark. I've spent the last few years diving into everything from front-end and back-end development to UX/UI, databases, and APIs. I recently made the big move to Perth and can't wait to bring my passion for clean code, clever design, and solving tricky problems to exciting new projects. Let's build something awesome!

Experience

Web Developer Intern • Apartament na Górcie

2024 - 2024 • Łagów, Poland

As a web developer intern, I designed and developed a full-stack web application for a private holiday rental company.

Some of my main tasks included creating sketches and mockups based on customer requirements, implementing a PostgreSQL database to manage bookings and building both the front end and the back end using ReactJS, JavaScript Node.js and Express.

Front End Developer Intern • Swap Language

2022 - 2023 • Aarhus, Denmark

I was primarily responsible for various front end related tasks, including working on the custom created component library that the company uses throughout their platform, and translating designs into code by implementing responsive front end pages.

I also participated in the implementation of a few of the microservices and micro frontends.

I actively participated in daily standups, refinements and sprint retrospectives.
